

2022 Lakes Region Conservation Corps Squam Lakes Conservation Society Position Description

The Squam Lakes Conservation Society seeks two Lakes Region Conservation Corps members who enjoy working outdoors and within natural systems, who want to encourage community engagement, and who enjoy land management activities on land permanently conserved for future generations.

SLCS is a small land trust working to permanently conserve the lands in the Squam Watershed.

Location

Squam Lakes Conservation Society, 534A US Route 3, Holderness, NH

Key responsibilities

You will encounter a wide range of activities in the Squam Watershed while interacting with this unique community. You will be expected to work both indoors and outdoors. While much work will be focused on stewardship of conserved lands, you will be involved in all aspects of land trust work. The following is a partial list of skills and experiences you can expect to develop:

- Monitor conservation easements, which entail walking property lines and trails and reviewing easement documents to ensure conservation goals are met.
- Work with volunteers to provide training and support in a variety of capacities.
- Perform land management activities on SLCS preserves, including general land management, boundary line maintenance, and invasive plant management and removal.
- Utilize social media skills to advance SLCS's mission.
- Organize events and deliver programs such as leading interpretive walks.
- Work on new land acquisition projects conducting field work, creating baseline documentation, and identifying areas of special conservation value.
- Utilize GIS mapping and Avenza to update and improve the delivery of conservation planning and stewardship.
- Conduct trail maintenance.
- Be an active member of a small but highly experienced team.
- Interact with other LRCC AmeriCorps Members for community projects.
