

Eric Milligan Bio:

Eric Milligan, an avid mushroom forager, began his study of fungi around 2002. Ten years later, in 2012, he and his partners turned their hobby into a profession: New Hampshire Mushroom Company. Now in over 11 years of business, Eric & his company NHMC have provided specialty mushrooms to restaurants & farmer's markets all across New Hampshire and parts of Massachusetts & Maine. Eric is also an expert forager and worked with Dr. Rick Van De Poll to develop new legislature around the selling of wild mushrooms. Eric is one of New England's leading voices when it comes to mycology.
